World's Fair March, 1904.

Mr. John C. Weber, director of Weber's Military Band of Cincinnati, known as the "Prize Band of America," has composed the St. Louis World's Fair March 1904—and dedicated it to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. It will be distributed through the passenger department of the B. & O. S.W. R. R., World's Fair Route, at 10 cents per copy.

The music is in sheet form, arranged for the piano, being very handsomely gotten up, with highly illuminated title cover. Mr. John C. Weber is not only a great Musical Director, but he has written some very catchy and popular marches. The St. Louis World's Fair March is his latest success, and will add further to his fame.

Mr. Weber and his great organization of artists has twice defeated all comers in national contests at Elks' Reunions. The latest triumph was at Balairme, Md., on the 21st of last July, when, in a notable contest, composed of the leading bands of America, won the first prize of $1,000. It is confidently expected that Mr. Weber's World's Fair March will become a popular air during the next year, and every household should have a copy of this music.

Send 10 cents in silver to the undersigned, and copy of the World's Fair March will be mailed to your address.

THRO' KENTUCKY.

Thro' the grand state of Kentucky, Where the "Old Home" got its name, Where the fields are overflowing With the yellow ripening grain.

Here tobacco plants are growing, In the fields not sown with corn, Tobacco plants—big as cactus— Just as sure as you are born.

Yes, they're large as good-sized cactus, Larger in our home-like view, But it's of a fine a grade as Is that old "Kentucky Dew."

Here all people reap a harvest, Money in bank from year to year, All the green calamity howlers, Lose their jobs when they land here.

Here the "dry" ways are the highways, Built high and dry from rains and flood, Here the "good roads delegation," Swear the roads are suitably good.

But of pikes and highways finest, There's a "road" that suits my taste; Tis the line of Solid Comfort, And the train let no time waste.

From Kentucky to St. Louis, Operates this road of class, Across the famous old "Green River" On its roadbed smooth as glass.

Would you know the road I speak of? Listen to my advice, For you'll need it in your business, On your trip to Paradise.

In your travels to St. Louis— Hustle; beat them under the wire, "Get the 'Henderson Route' habit"— Tis a good one to acquire.

RUSSIANS DEFEATED.

Important Engagement Near the Town of Chong Ju.

In the Battle Cavalry and Infantry on Both Sides Were Used—The Combat Lasted For About Half An Hour.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—The emperor has received a dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin giving a lengthy report from Gen. Mishtchenko, dated at 10 p. m., March 28, which says that an important engagement took place near the town of Chong Ju, in which the Russians were defeated, retiring in perfect order.

The Japanese suffered heavily, but the Russian losses are not stated.

Cavalry and infantry on both sides were engaged. The Russians occupied a commanding position.

The Japanese fought gallantly, but owing to their heavy losses were unable to occupy the position abandoned by the Russians.

Gen. Kuropatkin, in his first report to the emperor from the scene of war, announced that offensive land operations had taken place against the Japanese upon the sixth anniversary of the occupation of Port Arthur by the Russians. These operations took the form of a cavalry attack Monday by six companies of Cossacks, led personally by Gen. Mishtchenko against four

FIELD MARSHAL OYAMA,
Commanding the Japanese Forces in squadrons of Japanese cavalry, which the general believed to be beyond Chong Ju, but which he found to be in occupation of that town.

Despite a cross fire which Gen. Mishtchenko cleverly directed against the enemy, he pays a tribute to their tenacity and bravery, the Japanese only ceasing to fire after a combat which lasted for half an hour. Before the Russians could follow up their advantage three Japanese squadrons galloped toward the town which two of them succeeded in entering while the third was driven back in disorder, men and horses falling.

The fire maintained on the town was so destructive that the Japanese were unable to make an effective return.

Further Japanese reinforcements arrived an hour later and in view of the superiority of the enemy Gen. Mishtchenko determined to retire, doing so without embarrassment, although he carried with him three killed and 16 wounded.

Gen. Mishtchenko's Cossacks have been endeavoring for some days to come in contact with the Japanese patrols, but the latter refused the combat.

The skirmish of Monday will have the effect of encouraging the Russians to retard as much as possible the advance of the Japanese army.

Gen. Kuropatkin's dispatch reporting Gen. Mishtchenko's operations as published does not give the place of its origin; but it is presumed that the commander-in-chief is either at Liao Yang or en route to New Chwang.

London, March 31.—The Daily Telegraph says the Japanese authorities have refused correspondents the use of the field telegraph lines and that all dispatches must be sent to Tokio by mail. The paper further says that there is no sign that any foreigners will be permitted to go to the front, though the native newspaper men will be allowed to do so.

The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial on the unprecedented severity of this censorship, suggests that Japan has some new and important move to conceal, possibly the re-embarkation of a portion of her forces already in Korea for some other point in the theater of war, and is anxious to guard against the possibility of leakage through foreign correspondents who might sympathize with Russia.

A correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Seoul reports that the Russians are evacuating the positions they occupy in Korea.

A special from Shanghai repeats the rumors that the mikado will shortly proceed to Korea with the headquarters staff.

Plans For Dry Docks Completed.

St. Petersburg, March 31.—Prof. Zimoff has completed plans for dry docks for the accommodation of battelements which are capable of being rapidly constructed. The plans will be sent to Viceroy Alexeff for his action.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

Regular Session.

Washington, March 29.—Senate—The senate Monday for three hours discussed the recent order of the pension bureau making old age an evidence of disability, and then passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill. The discussion of the pension order was based on the resolution offered some days ago by Mr. Carmack directing the committee on the judiciary to inquire into the authority of the executive branch of the government to make such an order. Mr. Carmack contended that no such authority exists, but several republican senators argued that the order was in line with the regulation issued by Judge Lochren, commissioner of pensions under Mr. Cleveland, fixing 65 years of age as an evidence of infirmity.

House—The sundry civil bill was before the house, but debate took a wide range. Mr. Gillett (Mass.) devoted considerable time to answering some of the statements recently made on the floor by Mr. Spight (Miss.) regarding the race question. He defended the president in inviting Booker T. Washington to dine with him and said the president was a man with a big heart as well as birth, breeding and cultivation. A strong plea for the tobacco growers was made by Mr. Trimble (Ky.), who urged the removal of the tax of six cents a pound on raw tobacco, in order that the producers might sell direct to the consumer.

Washington, March 30.—Senate—The bill authorizing the erection of an additional executive department building in Washington Tuesday was given the subject of spirited debate in the senate and after several hours' debate it remains unacted upon. Senators divided largely on the question of location but there also was talk as to the necessity of better office accommodations for the senate and the supreme court. During the day there was renewed effort to pass the bill prohibiting the misbranding of salmon, but owing to the opposition of senators who hold that the bill is calculated to interfere with the rights of individual states under the guise of an effort to control interstate commerce a vote was not reached.

House—For the want of speakers general debate on the sundry civil appropriation bill in the house was closed several hours before the time agreed on and the bill was read for amendment. Seventy-five pages were disposed of, the only important amendment adopted being one providing for an initial appropriation of $500,000 for the completion of the capitol building according to the original design. Mr. Campbell (Kan.) and Mr. Williams (Ill.) were the principal speakers, the former defending the protective tariff policy of the republican party and the latter denouncing the republicans for failing to investigate the post office department.

Washington, March 31.—Senate—The senate Wednesday began consideration of the post office appropriation bill and it was the signal for a revival of the democratic demand for an investigation into the charges of corruption in the post office department. The debate was initiated by Mr. Gorman, who spoke for almost two hours in criticism of the course of the republican party in the senate in refusing an inquiry, at the same time charging the post office committee with undue haste in reporting the bill, as he did the republican party with a desire to adjourn congress at an exceptionally early date in order to meet the wishes of the president. Mr. Gray contended that there should be a congressional inquiry, saying that the charges against Mr. Heath, ex-first assistant postmaster general, were such as to demand investigation. Mr. Penrose and Mr. Lodge spoke for the republican side of the chamber, defending the committee on post offices against the charge of haste and also the administration.

House—Substantial progress was made by the house in the consideration of the sundry civil bill, 51 pages being disposed of, leaving only 21 to be read. No amendments of general importance were made. Mr. Bartlett (Ga.) briefly replied to the statements of Mr. Gillett (Mass.) made last Monday on the Negro question. He said that the Massachusetts member had lectured the south for disregard of violations of the law, whereas in the city of Marion, Mass., persons who had tarred and feathered a man and woman had been acquitted and were paraded through the streets as heroes.

He believed that the people of the south are entitled to work out the Negro problem "As God shall will it." Mr. Crumpler (Ind.) declared that 3,000 persons have been mobbed and put to death in the last 25 years in the United States.

Sentenced to Pay a Fine of $20,000.

Butte, Mont., March 31.—F. Augustus Heinz, the Montana copper magnate, was fined $20,000 by Judge Beatty in the suit brought against Heinz et al., by the Butte and Boston Co., alleging the loot of the Michael Davitt estate.

Postmaster General's Condition.

Washington, March 29.—The condition of Postmaster General Payne continues favorable, although the progress towards recuperation in his weakened state is very slow. He sat up for some time Monday.

The South Atlantic Squadron.

Washington, March 31.—It was announced at the navy department Wednesday that the South Atlantic squadron will sail from Culebra about May 15 for South African waters, going by way of Cape Verde islands.

Will Not Drink With the Peacock.

In an opinion delivered Tuesday to Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin, of this district, Attorney General Hays holds that the 50 per cent, of fines secured by a Commonwealth's Attorney in any year can only be used to pay the salary of the attorney, up to the $4,000 limit fixed by the statutes, for that year, and if the attorney is paid his salary the surplus can not be devoted to paying his salary for the succeeding year.

The question was raised by attorney Franklin in the collection of a $1,500 judgment which he secured in the Bourbon Circuit Court against the Peacock Distilling Company. The judgment was secured in 1903, but was not paid until this year. For 1903 the Commonwealth's Attorney was paid his salary of $4,000. He then asked the auditor to pay him 50 per cent, of the $1,500 fine collected on this year's salary, on the ground that the money was not collected until this year. The matter was referred to the Attorney General, with the result detailed above. The decision will be of interest to such attorneys all over the State.

NEGRO FOR PRESIDENT.—W. T. Scott, a negro of St. Louis, has announced that preparations have been completed for a national convention for the nomination of a negro candidate for president. The convention will be held in St. Louis July 6, the date set for the National Democratic convention. The name of the new party is "The National Civil Liberal Party."

IN A CLASS BY HIMSELF.—Both houses of the Legislature have passed a bill authorizing the payment by the State of New York of a pension of $72 per month to Hiram Cronk, the last American survivor of the War of 1812. Both the Republicans and Democrats supported the bill for a pension and the sum of $72 was agreed to after a State Senator had declared that Cronk was in want.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. Corne Watson Baird will have on display Saturday, April 2, the most beautiful and carefully selected line of millinery she has ever shown. Mrs. Baird's years of experience in catering to the tastes of this fashionable community has taught her to select from the New York markets millinery to suit all tastes from the most modest to the most expensive. She has secured the services of Miss McCullough, of Florida, an expert in trimming, to be at the head of that department, and it will be a hard matter for you not to find what you want at this store.

DINKY CARS.—Our neighboring city of Winchester has a street railway, but it is not the best in the country. They rarely run on schedule time and are anything but accommodating. One of the cars is numbered 594, yet they only operate two cars on the line. Here in Paris we have no street car line, but when we do, it is to be hoped that it will be an improvement on that of Winchester.

PAINTED OR REPAIRED.—Those desiring to have their old buggies painted or repaired, call on

E. J. McKIMEY & Son.

WRITING A COOK BOOK.—Miss Minnie Fox, sister of John Fox, Jr., is writing a cook book, which will be published this spring by Fox, Guffield & Co., of New York. Mr. Coburn, a New York artist, is in the Blue Grass taking pictures for the volume, which will consist of the noted cooks of the Blue Grass, and of the celebrated landscapes of Central Kentucky. Miss Fox has not as yet selected a name for the book, which will be awaited with interest by her many friends in the Blue Grass.

CLARKE & CO'S CONFIDENCE IN HYOMEI.

Not a Penny Need Be Paid Unless It Cures You of Catarrh.

"Use Hyomei and be cured of catarrh," say Clarke & Co. When a responsible business house like this comes out and advertises that Hyomei will not cost a penny unless it does all that is claimed for it, it shows what remarkable confidence they have in this scientific medical treatment.

A complete Hyomei outfit consists of a neat pocket inhaler, that can be carried in the pocket or purse, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, and costs but $1.

The inhaler lasts a lifetime and when extra bottles of Hyomei are needed they can be obtained for 50c.

This treatment does away with all disagreeable and dangerous stomach dosing. Breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, it impregnates every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs with germ-killing and health-giving balsams. In this way it cures the most chronic and deep-seated catarrhal diseases of the air passages and respiratory organs.

The user is the sole judge whether Hyomei is to be paid for or not. If it does not help, Clarke & Co. will cheerfully return the money and it will not cost a penny.

PARIS GETS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican District Committee, of the Seventh Congressional District, met at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, on Wednesday, and called a district convention to be held at Paris, Ky., on April 26, to select delegates to attend the Chicago Convention.

Bourbon County was represented by Judge H. C. Howard, W. L. Yerkes and Stamps Moore.

This convention will bring from 200 to 250 visitors to our city, and much credit is due these Paris gentlemen in attendance for securing the Convention for Paris.

The Republican nominee for Congress in this district will not be named at this convention, but will be named at a convention to be held after the National Convention.

An Ordinance That Should Be Enforced.

If there is a city ordinance that should be enforced to the letter by the city officers it is the following one:

"The framework of all awnings at the eave shall be seven feet above the curb-stone, and no sign board projecting over a sidewalk shall be nearer than seven feet, at its lowest point, to the curb-stone. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be fined $2.00 for each day the same remains."

What we wish to call the attention of is to the low awnings on Main street. A number of them are barely over five feet, and then do not reach but to the middle of the pavement, consequently, when it is raining you are compelled to get out in the street to pass. Why wait until some one gets an eye punched out from those nuisances and a suit is filed against the city before you enforce this ordinance?

HATS.—Our hats cannot be matched in quality, style and prices. HARRY SIMON.

THE WALK-OVER SHOE.—A world beater for the money. FREEMAN &amp; FREEMAN.

Rare Feat of Surgery.

The Louisville Post has the following to say of a Paris boy who now stands at the head of his profession:

"Dr. Louis Frank, professor of obstetrics at the medical department of the Kentucky University, successfully performed a Caesarean operation yesterday afternoon at the City Hospital in the presence of a class of students of the University."

"It is announced on good authority that not more than ten operations of this nature have been performed in the history of medicine in Louisville. Dr. Frank reports that the operation in no way differed from others of the same nature."

"This morning it was given out at the hospital that both the mother and the child were doing well. The child which was a boy, weighed eight pounds.

"The danger from the operation is largely from hemorrhage, and is rendered necessary by an abdominal pelvic formation."

A FAT PRICE FOR BOURBON LAND.

On Wednesday, Mr. N. Ford Brent, of this city, purchased of Mrs. Sidney G. Clay 120 acres of land, lying on the Jacksontown pike opposite the Hibbler place, now owned by P. J. Millet, for $18,900 cash, or $152.50 per acre. This is part of the 500 acre tract the late Col. R. G. Stoner paid Mr. Wm. Tarr $90 per acre for. There are no improvements on the land except a tobacco barn. While it is the highest price paid for Bourbon land for some time, still it is considered to be a great bargain, as it is virgin soil and considered by old farmers to be one of the best tracts in the county. Mr. Brent conveyed one-half of the tract to Mr. Ed. L. Burke, at a small figure.

"Do It To-Day."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'till to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the tease advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demolishing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boeschree's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No! matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

Good Spirits.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant and happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

Love Triumphs Over Death

Love is a spirit throbbing through all life
To utterance delicate. The frailest flower,
By love inspired, a miracle of power,
Defies the weight of earth, the tempest's strife,
And blossoms gladly in the darkest hour.

Each living thing is taught by Love to hide
Its form and colors in a chosen cell.
That it may safely pass the gates of hell.
But in that narrow tomb it must abide
Until the force of Love shall break the shell.

Death is to Love a kindly door that leads
To clearer vision and to fairer scene,
E'en though the cross of sorrow stand between,
For Love has strength unto life's utmost needs;
And, knowing this, I go my way serene.

THAT CITY TENOR

An Easter Story Which Proves That Love
Will Find a Way

By MANDA L. CROCKER

BAA! Who ever heard of an oratorio being sung at Eams, anyway? And what do I care for that city tenor? It isn't much of a singer who would condescend to sing at the Cross Roads' church. I know, and I've a good notion to not go home; so there!

Rena Waring gave a freshly laundered shirt waist a spiteful little thrust, by way of schoolgirl emphasis, as she knelt beside an open suit-case, flushed and tearful. After a moment's hesitation the trembling fingers began their task of folding carefully a lovely Easter gown which was meant to be worn on a far different occasion than a prosaic home-going to hear a "botch" of an oratorio at Eams.

But Judge Waring had decreed that his daughter should not spend Easter week with the Burns family. "Good people, to be sure," he had said, "but not aristocratic."

"Of course," exclaimed Rena, hotly, as the silken folds of the beautiful dress glinted in the April sun, hinting at the prospective good times from which it had been so rudely divorced; "of course papa aims all his protests against Welcome simply because he hasn't a million in his own right, and because he worked his way through college."

"But, O dear! I will have to go home after all. Mamma expects me, and besides I have sent my regrets to the Burns'. But," she added, maliciously, "I really should rejoice with exceeding joy if Papa Waring's city tenor broke down right in the middle of that Waring oratorio."

"O fudge!" Max Hessler tossed a scrawl into the waste-basket and case and all, and the train crept away as if ashamed of leaving such a discontented budget of girlhood at such a contested crossing.

"Come right over to the church, Rena," said her father, after the usual greeting, "and see the decorations before we go up to the house. I tell you Eams has simply gone beyond all former efforts; and that professional singer will be surprised to see the Cross Roads putting on real city airs.

"He comes at four o'clock," he continued, confidentially, "and I want you to meet him, Rena; they do say he is fine."

A queer little disdainful pucker played around Miss Rena's mouth as she crossed the street and followed her paternal care-taker into the church. Truly the modest little auditorium was a marvel of floral beauty. Ferns, smilax, callas and real Easter lilies adorned the simple altar and nodded from every imaginable nook and recess.

On any other occasion but this particular one Miss Rena would have gone into ecstasies over the really exquisite picture; but as it was, she merely said "quite fine," and stepped from the vestibule with an air of "all this is but common," and a very elevated chin.

The judge was puzzled and disappointed more than he was willing to admit, knowing that his daughter was so fond of flowers. "Never mind," he said to himself, "it's that beggar, Burns, coming in between."

Up at the house Rena found her mother and Kitty in prim attire and the rooms in gala dress.

"The singer is to stop with us," explained Mamma Waring.

The suit-case and its owner disappeared upstairs as if by magic.

"Heavens!" she exclaimed, with rebellious inflection, "papa is determined that I shall meet this musical prodigy, whether I will or not!" Then, after a little consideration, she added, mischievously: "O, well, I will meet

Taking a hasty bath, Miss Waring twisted her wealth of hair into a very unbecoming pug, and donning an old, faded gown, without ribbon or ornament, descended the stairs.

At the foot she met her expectant father.

"Good gracious!" he exclaimed. "You are a fright, Rena. Mr. Hessler is now in the parlor and I want you to meet him; but I will never introduce such a dilapidated rag-bag as my daughter. Did your mother not tell you that the tenor was to stop with us?"

"Yes, papa—but—"

The parlor door opened slightly and the guest was heard saying: "I should be pleased to train the young people after tea."

Miss Rena had meant to offer any demur it was suddenly put to flight. As a bird flies to the covert, so did she seek the privacy of the blue and white boudoir, sacred to the presence of the eldes daughter of the judge.

"What can it mean?" she gasped, staring at the dimpled reflection in the mirror which, between a cry and a laugh, presented a ludicrous appearance.

Papa never prevaricates; he's always right out with everything, but that accomplished personage downstairs is not Max Hessler, whoever else he may be. There's some mistake—there could be a substitute—there's something queerly, luckily, happily wrong somewhere—mercy me!" and a little hysterical giggle ended the disconnected confidences.

The very unbecoming pug came down at once and a very becoming coronal of wavy, rippling hair supplanted it; the old gown was hurried back into the closet and a pretty, airy make-up enveloped Miss Rena as if by magic, and all the while numerous half-suppressed "Oh's!" and "My's!" alternated as safety valves at this trying time.

Meantime the judge fidgeted in the hall. "She's always on the contrary part," he growled; "now if that beggarly Burns had half the prestige of this accomplished tenor, she and I would get on better. I have never seen him—I don't want to—but I've heard enough—he's one of those headbangers which makes me sick. I—but here comes Rena. I hope she likes Max Hessler."

After rehearsal there was still time for a song at the Warings. Miss Rena's dignity thawed out satisfactorily and she presided at the piano while the handsome musical director sang a solo in the most approved style of quiver-quaver extant.

Easter night the silken gown shimmered and twinkled in the soft light of the auditorium and Miss Rena smiled happily as if no city tenor had broken up her plans for its debut.

The large, appreciative audience fairly held its breath as the wonderful oratorio began; then sank back into blissful
